

Industrial Hemp/Medical Marijuana

What has changed in West Virginia?
Is this still the right business for you?

Thursday, May 16, 2019 • 4:00 - 6:30 PM
The Innovation Building, WVU Beckley Campus
282 Minnesota Avenue, Beckley, WV

West Virginia has been participating in pilot hemp programs for several years now. With the passing of the 2018 Farm Bill, and recent legislative changes in the 2019 session, many opportunities are available. But, how do you know if these opportunities are right for you? We will discuss what the Farm Bill means, the limitations of the same, an update regarding hemp, medical marijuana and banking, law enforcement issues, and extraction/finished product issues in this 2 ½ hour session.

Seminar Topics Include:

Update on Hemp issues from WV Legislature

— from 2019 session and changes to regulations

Update on Medical Marijuana issues

— from WV Legislature from 2019 session

Extraction, finished product and our moments in hemp growing

Law Enforcement Issues and Potential SOPs

or traffic stops involving hemp

Compliance issues

industrial hemp regulation, permits, licensing and more

Banking and financing for hemp businesses including raising capital

Real estate and zoning issues producers/distributors need to consider

Who Should Attend?

- West Virginia agribusinesses and entrepreneurs interested in entering this emerging marketplace
- Law enforcement personnel interested in understanding what has been legalized as well as standard operating procedures

Speakers include:

Jennifer Greenlief
Assistant Commissioner
WV Dept. of Agriculture
Charleston

Jason Frame
Office of Medical Cannabis
Charleston

Duane Zobrist
Appalachian Extracts
White Sulphur Springs

Bruce Sloan
Sherriff, Greenbrier County
Lewisburg

Jennifer Mason
Partner • Dinsmore & Shohl LLP
Lewisburg

John Mackewich
Of Counsel • Dinsmore & Shohl LLP
Detroit, MI

Appalachian
Extracts