Ed has represented more than one out of every four of Ohio's 611 school districts.

Much of his contact with Ohio school districts involves preparation of tax levy and bond issuance proceedings. He assists dozens of clients annually with replacement, renewal and new money tax levies, income tax, emergency, combination and permanent improvement levies.

As bond counsel for many of Ohio's traditional governmental issuers, Ed enjoys existing relationships with the cities of Newark, Oxford, Cambridge and Chillicothe and the counties of Ottawa, Fayette, Crawford, Wyandot, Lorain, and Hardin.

Experience

Our Smaller Municipal Clients Highly Valued – Bond Counsel and Construction Counsel

A small, rural school district unfortunately experienced a failing HVAC system in the middle of a cold, Ohio winter. With our assistance, they developed a project delivery method for a new system complying with the myriad of Ohio construction laws applying to political subdivisions and the project was financed, delivered and completed all within a budget acceptable to our client.

IRS Letter Ruling gives school district extra time to spend bond proceeds

We obtained an IRS Private Letter Ruling to allow a public school district an extension to spend qualified school construction bond proceeds. The school would have had to spend the tax advantaged bond proceeds within three years, but the Letter Ruling allowed the district additional time to spend the bond proceeds due to unforeseen circumstances outside of the school district's control.
