Joel focuses his practice on commercial litigation, defending mortgage lenders and other financial service clients in various consumer finance-related litigation matters. These include disputes under RESPA, TILA, FDCPA, and state law claims. With extensive experience, Joel represents mortgage lenders and loan servicers in contested residential and commercial foreclosures, tax sale disputes, title insurance claims, and regulatory code violation cases.

His practice is characterized by an understanding of the financial services industry and a dedication to achieving favorable outcomes for his clients. His commitment to his clients is evident in his thorough approach to each case, ensuring their interests are vigorously defended.

After graduating from law school, Joel served a judicial clerkship for Chief Magistrate Judge Stephanie K. Bowman at the United States District Court for the Southern District of Ohio.
