Cincinnati, OH
Tel: (513) 977-8570

Keeley focuses her practice on litigation. Her experience includes drafting new policies on Non-Consensual Distribution of Intimate Images, drafting internal guidelines for conducting cyber intelligence on the dark web to comply with Department of Justice guidelines, and assisting with strategic planning for the implementation of a U.S.-U.K. agreement under the CLOUD Act. As a summer associate she gained experience in equine law, working on contract review and pre-trial litigation work. She received her J.D. from University of Cincinnati College of Law.

Prior to working in the legal field, Keeley was the co-founder of an equestrian business, where she created nationally competitive training programs for horses and riders.
