

Nathan Hall

Associate
nathan.hall@dinsmore.com

Louisville, KY
Tel: (502) 540-8032

Nathan's practice focuses on employment immigration matters including non-immigrant work visas and the permanent residence process via PERM. His previous experience includes clerking for Chief Judge Lavenski Smith on the Eighth Circuit and working for Washington University's immigration clinic, where he assisted clients with asylum and family-based petitions. He received his J.D. from Washington University School of Law and has written a piece for the American Immigration Lawyers Association Law Journal about the asylum process.

Services

- Labor
- Employment
- Immigration

Education

- Washington University School of Law (J.D., cum laude, 2022)
- Butler University (B.A., cum laude)

Bar Admissions

- Kentucky

Publications

December 6, 2024

H-1B Visa Cap Reached for FY2025

November 5, 2024

New E-Verify+ System Comes with Reasons for Excitement and Concern for Employers

October 31, 2024

International Entrepreneurial Parole Investment Amounts Adjusted for Inflation

August 2, 2024

USCIS Announces Second H-1B Cap Lottery Selection

June 21, 2024

Charting a New Path: Parole in Place for Undocumented Spouses of U.S. Citizens

June 6, 2024

Summer Travel Season: Tips for Traveling as a U.S. Visa Holder

May 6, 2024

H-1B Concurrent Employee: A Viable Option for Those Who Didn't Win the H-1B Lottery

April 4, 2024

H-1B Lottery Ends: You've Been Selected! Now What?

February 8, 2024

Decoding the H-1B CAP Registration: Navigating the Path to Skilled Foreign Talent